Waste of couple seconds of my life. You drive like a autistic lol.. great game!!!. its fun when you actually drift but it needs alot of work. Can't exit out of this garbage game because the main menu is greyed out and hitting ESC does nothing.. Don't be fooled... it does say free to play...

But you can't really do much of anything unless you spend money. And I mean ANYTHING. It costs money for a floor jack to use to work... also, you have to pay monthly to get any cool benefits from the game.

Waste of time and hard disk space... it's ashame too because this game has LOTS of great ideas... whoever was in charge blew it though making everything require deep pockets.... It is gay that you use tiers when you are practicing and if you want more tiers you ned to pay.

Well, I used to play a lot, but then I quit for a few reasons, not game reasons, community reasons. The game is really good, tends to lag just a little, but it's not intolerable. The community is 90% give or take good, and there's the rest of the players that purposely bump into you, or mess you up in a rival, or cuss often, etc... game DOESNT EVEN HAVE A QUIT BUTTON. this game does have potential but as of now its not really worth it, yes it is free but it has many problems. problem 1 the physics are terrible and i mean terrible sometimes you just slide through things. problem 2 the background is horrible to look at bcause it doesnt move a the same pace your car does and btw motion blur doesnt solven this. problem 3 the fact you have to wait to repair your car repairing your car should be instant and free not timed like a mobile game. problem 4 the video settings screen is lacking, there is no fxaa nob,no mxaa, basically no antiallaising switches at all. nuow heres one thing that is reedeming about this game, it is genuinly fun to go into servers and drift, but that its for the pros. i do think this game has potential but it needs to inprove

. Game feels pretty solid. Needs some work but it has potential.. The handling and feel is nothing like anyone who has drove a car ever would recognice, gimicky and unresponsive.

Like you are riding around on rims without wheels almost.. it has crappy handling. Fun game but needs more tracks
